

What data is within contract factsheets?

Last Modified on 10/01/2024 12:36 pm GMT

A contract factsheet shows all the information which Synaptic records about a contract. It consists of some or all of the following sections – some sections are not applicable to some types of product.

Special offer	Any special offer currently available on the contract.
Features	Yes/no markers for whether the contract provides each possible feature.
Sectors	Yes/no markers for whether the contract offers at least one fund link in each possible sector.
Policy conditions	All the additional policy conditions recorded by Synaptic.
Financial strength	Financial strength ratings for the provider from AKG and Moody's.
Stats	Various statistics about the contract such as premium levels, projected surrender values etc.
Past performance	The past performance figures for each sector.
Linked funds	A list of all the linked funds available on the contract.
Notes	Any additional notes recorded about the contract.

(These groups of information are explained further in the section below about Synaptic's data.)

Opening contract factsheets

Contract factsheets can be opened from several places:

- By searching for a contract on the Home page.
- By clicking on a contract name in a research grid.
- By clicking on a contract name in the list of ranking results.
- By clicking on a contract name in a company factsheet.
- By selecting Factsheet for the selected contract on Synaptic Research's Report page.
- By clicking on a contract name in the details of a special offer.

Options and tools

At the top of a contract factsheet is a bar of tickboxes which lets you select which sections of the factsheet to display. Only the ticked sections are included in printed output and PDFs. This bar is illustrated by the screenshot below:
