Where is my research stored?

Your research is automatically stored on Synaptic's servers. These are both resilient and secure, but we recommend that you download PDF reports etc. describing your research for your own backup purposes.

However, please note that your research itself is stored, but suitability reports and Quick Reports which you generate are not stored. If you want to keep electronic copies of these you need to download and save them.